The perfect formula to implement
an art appreciation program.

Program Description

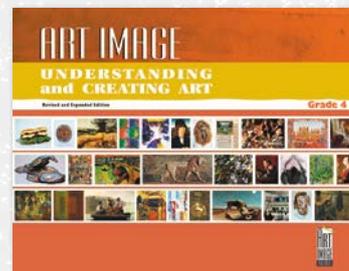

The new Art Image Appreciation program offer students a broad exposure to works of art, helping them to understand the importance of art in a variety of cultures from different times and places. The teacher's guides are organized in model lessons that incorporate concepts and skills from the National Core Arts Standards. All lessons cover the four essential components of arts instruction: Aesthetic Perception, Art History and Culture, Art Criticism, and Studio Production.

Each digital guide includes:

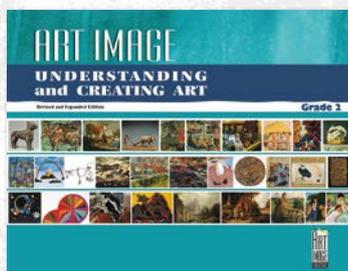

- Revised and enhanced lesson plans based on the popular Art Image Series;
- 15 detailed theme-based easy-to-use lessons;
- 30 high quality digital images for projection in the classroom;
- Guided discussion to introduce elements and principles of art;
- Art criticism based on—both fine art images and student artwork;
- Biographies of featured artists;
- Effective for both a classroom situation or for individual group study.

Vocabulary

Abstract art

Objectives

- Be introduced to three prominent figures in the American art scene.
- Become more visually sensitive to abstraction in painting.
- Learn more about the specific characteristics of Abstract art.
- Find design elements.
- Become aware that abstract works, like figurative works, express feelings.
- Determine which work of art they prefer and give reasons for their choices.
- Use the specific elements of design and composition in their own artworks.

Key vocabulary

EXPERIMENT and CREATE

Vocabulary

Abstract art is a kind of non-figurative art in which no attempt is made to represent form or subject matter realistically. Instead, it uses color, shape, and pattern as the main subject of the artwork.

Objectives

Students will complete a visually interesting two-dimensional abstract composition.

TECHNIQUE and MATERIALS

These paper collage

- 1 a 9 in. (23 cm) x 11 in. (28 cm) oak tag (one sheet per student)
- 2 12 sheets of assorted color tissue papers (preferably warm and cool colors)
- 3 Acrylic polymer medium or liquid laundry starch
- 4 Large brushes
- 5 Scissors

PROCEDURE

- Begin the session by telling students that they will be using the design elements — colors, shapes, space, and balance — as a form of language to make a design collage of an abstract artwork. There should be no figurative. They are to only use shapes and forms, preferably geometric — squares and rectangles — in different dimensions (large, medium, or small) and different proportions (wide/narrow or narrow/high). Their artwork is to be static and balanced (no diagonal lines).
- Using a sheet of oak tag as a background surface, students cut out shapes in the transparent tissue paper and apply them in overlapping stages

ASSESSMENT

Assign each student a work that is not their own and ask them to write a short paragraph in which they evaluate the effectiveness of their classroom's composition. In their opinion, to what extent was their classroom able to apply the concepts learned such as the use of overlapping to create new colors? What kinds of geometric shapes were mainly used? Do the shapes vary in size and coloration? How are the shapes arranged in the composition? Is the composition static and balanced? Students then compare each other's analyses.

OBSERVE and RESPOND

Presentation of Artist and Work

Sonia Delaunay was born in Russia in 1885. She studied in Russia and Germany, and then moved to Paris in 1906. She married the painter Robert Delaunay, one of the pioneers of modern abstraction, and later began to create works herself. Like her husband, Delaunay eventually dealt with the depiction of light and movement. She was fascinated by the pulsating power of color relationships and introduced a technical variation into her large, brightly colored canvases. Delaunay's work extends to painting, textile design, and stage set design. She revolutionized the art of fabric design by creating fabrics with abstract patterns and contrasting colors. Her interest in fabric design and interior decoration made her one of the most important members of the Art Deco movement. She wanted to make the world a brighter and more interesting place. Delaunay worked all her life in France and died in Paris in 1979.

1. Group students around the images to discuss three abstract works of art. Explain that an abstract painting is neither uncolored nor figurative. It does not tell a story and it does not contain any recognizable objects or figures. The meaning of an abstract painting or sculpture is contained in the grouping of the shapes, colors, and forms of which it is composed. In order to decipher the artist's meaning and intent, it is important to know how to "read" and interpret the basic elements of visual art. Most of all, viewers must be emotionally receptive.
2. Present the three works of art. The first, made in 1926, is entitled No. 129. As it is by a woman painter named Sonia Delaunay. The second work, entitled Broadway Boogie Woogie, was done in 1942 by a Dutch artist named Piet Mondrian. The last one is entitled, but it is known as Number 25. It was painted in 1950 by an American artist named Mark Rothko.
3. Suggested quiz (10 minutes)
 - Display the images alongside the following questions and the names of the artists. Students are to write their answers on a piece of paper.
 - a) Which of the three paintings is in warm colors? (Delaunay)
 - b) Which painting contains only primary colors? (Mondrian)
 - c) Which painting has many curves in it? (Delaunay)
 - d) Which painting has a predominantly horizontal composition? (Delaunay)
 - e) Which painting has especially hard, contrasting lines? (Mondrian)
 - f) Which painter has a blurred effect? (Delaunay)
4. Focus again on the images.
 - What words and impressions come to mind when you look at these abstract works?

Places and Spaces in Art

A Program of Activities on Architecture and Landscape Design

Primary (K-2) – Elementary (3-5) – Middle (6-8) by Dr. Joanne K. Guilfoil

Program Description

Places and Spaces in Art provides a thematic exploration of the built environment. This studio-rich program addresses five major environmental themes at each grade: building, interiors, planning, landscape, and preservation.

Photographs and large art reproductions of actual places and spaces depicted by a broad array of artists are analyzed as subject matter in fine arts and as design concepts and ideas from our environment.

A Set of photographs of architectural and landscape details complements the model lessons and gives students additional insight into the built environment and art.

The Teacher's Guide, organized in 15 model lessons (5 per grade) correlated to the National Visual Arts Standards, includes:

- Detailed art and interdisciplinary extension activities
- Visual dictionary, glossary, and biographies
- Program Planning and Assessment Guides

Each Set includes

- 15 Fine Art Reproductions
18" x 22 3/4" (45.8 cm x 56.5 cm)
- 15 photographs

Art First Nations Tradition and Innovation in North America

ELEMENTARY AND INTERMEDIATE by Bill Zuk and Don Bergland

Program Description

The program presents sets of images that feature both traditional artwork of Aboriginal master artists, based on old and established beliefs and customs, as well as innovative artworks, reflecting new outlooks and perspectives. As the artworks are compared, old and new ideas, concepts and symbols are noted. Students acquire a new-found respect and appreciation of the native people's rich cultural heritage and an understanding of innovation and how art and culture change over time.

The Teacher's Guide includes

- Biographical information
- Critical inquiry
- Hands-on activities
- Assessment
- Enrichment activities integrating creative writing, research, visual and performing arts, and social studies

This program highlights the artistic innovation of First Nations peoples in five major geographical and cultural areas of North America: Southwest, Eastern Woodlands, Plains, Arctic, and Northwest Coast.

Each Set includes

- 20 Fine Art Reproductions
18" x 22 3/4" (45.8 cm x 56.5 cm)

ORDER FORM

How to order

Schools: Provide an authorization and purchase order or use this form. Shipping charges prepaid and added to invoice. Credit terms: Net 30 days date of invoice.

Individuals: No individual accounts. Use our Art Image Order Form accompanied by your check or charge to your Visa or MasterCard. Add shipping and handling charges. Add taxes to canadian orders.

Orders can be placed ONLINE at www.artimagepublications.com, or by MAIL, PHONE, FAX or E-MAIL. When following up a phone order with a written order, the written order must be marked "Confirmation Order." Art Image is not responsible for any duplicate orders due to improperly marked confirming orders.

Shipping and Handling

- All materials shipped to Canada or within the continental US via FedEx Ground or Purolator. Add 12% of total order value for shipping and handling. Minimum shipping/handling is $25.00. Note: FedEx Ground and Purolator require a street address and do not deliver to P.O. Boxes.
- Upon request, we will provide 2nd or 3rd Day Air Shipment for an additional charge. Contact a customer representative at 1-800-361-2598 for more information.
- All materials shipped to Alaska, Hawaii or any international destination will be shipped FedEx Express (unless otherwise specified). All materials shipped to Yukon, Northwest Territories or Nunavut will be shipped Canada Post (unless otherwise specified). The exact shipping cost is based on weight and zone of delivery. An additional $10.00 handling fee will be added to the actual shipping cost. Please call our customer representative at 1-800-361-2598 for more information on your actual shipping and handling cost.

Return Policy

- If there is a problem with your order, contact us within 10 days of receipt of shipment.
- Call for return authorization number and return via FedEx Ground, UPS or Insured Parcel Post.
- All materials to be returned for credit must be insured, unstamped and in saleable condition.
- Art prints cannot be returned or exchanged.
- Enclose original packing slip or a copy of invoice with returned materials.

Claims

- The carrier is liable for any goods damaged or lost in transit. If shipment shows evidence of damage, file a claim with delivering carrier and report damage or loss to us within 10 days of receipt of goods. Keep the original shipping carton where there has been damage of product en route to you.

Purchase/Review Policy

- Requests must be made on a purchase order or school letterhead with authorized signature.
- Payment must be made in full if materials are not returned within 30 days.
- Art prints are not available for preview and evaluation.
- Call our customer service for a return authorization and return via FedEx Ground or Insured Parcel Post.

We acknowledge the financial support of the Government of Canada through the Canada Book fund (CBF) for our publishing activities.
